Hillsville Woman Dies In Morning Fire

Mother Dies After Saving Family In Fire

Mrs. Louis Prato, Hillsville,
Burned To Death Early
This Morning

MR. PRATO IS IN HOSPITAL HERE

Three Others In Family Escape Blaze But Are Slightly Burned

Mrs. Sadie Prato, aged 47 years, of Hillsville, died a heroine when fire destroyed their home just west of the town at 5 o'clock this morning, being trapped and burned to death after successfully rescuing the other members of the family.
Her body was not recovered from the smouldering embers until five hours later.

Mrs. Prato had arisen early and set about the household tasks. It is believed that she used kerosene oil in an attempt to hasten the process of starting a fire in the kitchen stove, and the oil exploded. With her clothing ablaze, she summoned her husband, Louis, aged about 65 years, her two sons, James, aged 24, and Peter, aged 20; and daughter, Margaret, aged 17. They succeeded in getting out of the house, although Mr. Prato was terribly burned about the face and hands, and the two boys were also burned

Contributors To $35,000 Site Clearing Fund To Be Repaid Every Cent

Every citizen of New Castle who contributed to the $35,000 fund for the clearing of the old steel mill site will get his contribution back in full.
This amazing announcement was made Friday night by Roger Jewett, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association, at the dinner in the Castleton opening the 1942 membership campaign.
Shortly before the dinner started the negotiations disposing of the scrap on the site were completed and between now and May 1 each contributor will receive every dime he put into the venture. The announcement was received with the kind of enthusiasm that greets a home run in the ninth inning of a

Gasoline Allowance May Be Fixed At 7-12 To 10 Gallons Per Week

By JACK VINCENT
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 25.—Government officials in charge of the gasoline rationing program which will be launched in eastern states
May 15 today hoped to fix the average motorist's ration of motor fuel at from 7 1/2 to 10 gallons a week.
However, there still was disagreement in official Washington over the exact amount, first set as low as 2 1/2 to five gallons a week by sources close to the office of Price Administrator Leon Henderson.

Consumption Cut
With a 33 1/2 percent curtailment in deliverys to gasoline filling stations now in effect under orders issued by Federal Petroleum Coordinator Harold Ickes, average consumption has already been cut to about 10 gallons a week although it may not be evenly spread.

Reports were current that Ickes was considering the possibility of issuing a new order increasing curtailments up to 50 percent, and making it effective in the Pacific northwest states of Oregon and Washington as well as along the eastern seaboard.

Such a step would cut the average consumption to about 7 1/2 gallons a week, and some government officials hoped that the weekly ra-

First Move Made To Police Wool Industry In U. S.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 25.—In its first move to police the wool industry, the War Production board today issued a suspension order against the Susquehanna Woolen company of New Cumberland, Pa., which will force the firm to suspend manufacture of civilian products for three months.

The WPB charged that the company violated the wool conservation order. The company had been ordered to use only 9,066 pounds of wool for non-military orders between January 4 and April 5. The company, however, used 19,000 pounds, according to the WPB.

Will Reclassify Men In Class 3-A

Two Classes To Be Estab-

Dependents

MEN ESSENTIAL TO WAR WORK IN 3-B

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 25.—A drastic order issued today by National Selective Service headquarters calling for reclassification of all men with dependents, indicated strongly that persons hitherto deferred because of a wife or child soon may be inducted into the army unless they are engaged in war work.

New Classes
The new classes for registrants deferred for dependency who now are in Class III-A were defined in the order as follows:
"Class III-A—Any registrant upon whose earnings one or more persons depend for support in a reasonable manner and who is not engaged in any activity either essential to the war production program or essential to the support of the war effort."
"Class III-B—Any registrant upon whose earnings one or more persons depend for support in a reasonable manner and who is engaged in an activity either essential to the war production program or essential to the war effort."

Will Be Called First
Officials explained that those who remain in Class III-A when the re-classification is completed will be the first selected for military service when it becomes necessary to induct men with dependents.

Concerning cases of recently-acquired dependency, the memorandum to State Selective Service Boards ordered the exclusion from deferment of registrants when there

LONDON, April 25.—Bringing the 24-hour total of bombs dropped to be the staggering figure of almost 1,000,000 pounds, hundreds of Royal Air Force planes again raided the vital German industrial city of Rostock early today, their way lit by fires still roaring as a result of the first battering assault yesterday morning.

More than 400 tons of high explosive bombs were dropped on the city where the huge

the total weight of bombs dropped came exactly to 896,000 pounds.

Raids Widespread

the widespread nature of the raids.
Insisting as usual that only non-mil-

U. S. Airforce Likely To Join R. A. F.

Huge Drive On Germany Seen

Greatest Aerial Offensive In World History Is Believed Looming

OTHER OFFENSIVE ACTION IS LIKELY

BY KINGSBURY SMITH

(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—

Diplomatic quarters in Washington today believe an American Air Force will join the British R. A. F. this summer in launching against Germany one of the greatest aerial offensives the world has ever seen.

The American Air Force is expected to operate as a separate unit in the British Isles, but may be under the unified command of a British air marshal.

This combined Anglo-American aerial drive against Germany and German-controlled positions on the European continent is seen likely to form the spearhead of the United Nations offensive action in Western Europe.

Other Offensive Action

The belief is growing steadily in diplomatic quarters that the aerial campaign will be accompanied by other offensive action, either in the form of intensified commando raids, with American troops participating, or in an attempt to establish a temporary "second front" in Norway or across the English Channel.

Purpose of the "second front" would be aimed at diverting German air and land forces from the eastern front and thus easing the pressure on the Russian armies.

However, the diplomats generally believe that the Anglo-American aerial drive will be the "main event" of the offensive action in Western Europe this year.

Plans Near Completion

Final plans for the United Nations' offensive strategy in Western Europe are believed to be nearing completion in joint staff talks now underway in Washington between leading representatives of the American and British high commands.

Support for the opening of a "second front" in Western Europe this year appears strong in some administration circles.

Among those in congressional quarters who are publicly urging it is Senator Claude Pepper, D., of Fla., often regarded as an administration spokesman.

"I am strongly in favor of opening a second front in Western Europe this year," he said. "I think Lord Beaverbrook was 100 percent right in advocating it."

"The people of the United States are not a defensive people once they have been attacked. The sooner we get on the offensive, the better everybody is going to like it and the more it will become the character and spirit of the American people."

is indication that dependency was acquired to avoid military service. The order stated:

In cases where the dependency status (such as marriage) was acquired on or after December 8, 1941, or acquired when induction was imminent or for the primary purpose of providing a basis for dependency of deferment, pregnancy, birth or acquiring a child, shall not be cause for classification in Class III-A or Class III-B.

Dependency Situation

"Likewise in cases where no financial dependency existed by reason of the fact that the claimed dependent, such as a working wife, was providing adequately for his or her own support, and such dependent voluntarily ceased providing for his or her own support for the primary purpose of affording a basis for dependency deferment."

There shall be classification in Class III-A or Class III-B.

Broadly, the degree of dependency is to be determined by the actual need of the dependent for the civilian earnings of the registrant, officials said, regardless of whether or not the dependent is working or is capable of working.

No Present Justification

In this connection it was pointed out that the passage of allotment and allowance laws by congress may hereafter require a change in classification of many registrants now deferred for dependency.

However, at the present time officials said there is no justification for putting a man in Class I-A, as available for general military service where there is a financially dependent wife, child or children.

ing following this registration, as the listing is not being made for military service, but for possible war work.

Mr. Leslie McCracken, of R. D. 4, reports to Pa. News that a baby chick hatched at their farm on Monday has three legs. The "extra" leg is behind the first left leg and is a trifle shorter than the others, having two toes. The chick is a Tom Baron English White Leghorn and is in every other way a normal chick. Mrs. McCracken reports that in six years of chick farming this is the first time an experience like this has occurred.

While you are enjoying the fine warm sunshine today, just reflect on the kind of weather we were having a year ago. A cold wave had set in, and the mercury dropped to 25 degrees, frosts being noted three days in succession. Frost also occurred as late as May 11, when the temperature dropped to 28 degrees during the night, and was down to 27 degrees the next night.

Gen. MacArthur, escorted by 30 members of his general headquarters staff, came to Melbourne to participate in the annual solemn tribute to the massive shrine of remembrance situated on slopes overlooking the city.

EXPECT 13,000,000 TO BE REGISTERED IN FOURTH DRAFT

At present selective service officials do not plan on calling anyone in the 45-64 bracket for active combat duty, but there is a possibility that some may be drafted as non-combatants.

One purpose of the registration is to give the government a comprehensive picture of the available man-power which can be pressed into service in war plants if necessary. Recently, Paul V. McNutt, chief of the man-power board, warned that some 13,000,000 more men will be needed in war industries by January 1, 1943.

GASOLINE ALLOWANCE MAY BE FIXED AT 7 1/2 TO 10 GAL. PER WEEK

tion could be maintained at that amount once the card system goes into effect. Ickes said Wednesday that there is no justification in anticipating a cut to a ration of 2 1/2 to five gallons a week.

Although figures on current stocks of gasoline in storage along the Atlantic seaboard are undisclosed, it was learned that shipments of gasoline and oil products into that area dropped to 700,000 barrels a day, as compared to estimated minimum requirements of 1,320,000 barrels, and average daily consumption of 1,500,000 barrels under normal conditions.

Supply Is Cut

As a result, the east coast was receiving only about half of minimum requirements and the figures made it obvious that deliveries to filling stations must be further curtailed if stocks were to be maintained.

Sen. Walsh (D) Mass., urged sensible rationing.

"Personally," he said, "I think it would be wiser to begin reasonable rationing of so-called pleasure cars rather than a sweeping general rationing of all automobiles. From what I can learn from authorities, I believe that there will be exemptions and special provisions made for rationing of cars other than pleasure cars."

Walsh apparently referred to the fact that five different types of rationing cards will be issued, some of them to defense workers who must depend on their automobiles to get to and from war plants.

Mr. De Michi, suggested that production of cars be taken off all nearby oil fields, including: "It seems to me that with the eastern states facing a severe gas rationing, it would be wise to allow the oil producing states east of the Mississippi such as Illinois and Michigan to provide maximum production."

Disagrees With Big Cut

It would require a much shorter railroad haul to bring oil and gas from those states than from Oklahoma and Texas, and would reduce the strain on railroads. It also would allow many industries to continue to burn oil, thus reducing the strain on coal.

Brown said that he disagreed with proposals to make the ration along the east coast as low as 2 1/2 to five gallons a week. He suggested a rate of about 10 gallons a week.

"If the reduction goes beyond that," he warned, "I think there will be many repercussions."

He pointed also to the large number of government cars in use, which will not be hit by rationing. He expressed belief that when motorists see the government cars being driven while civilians are limited to a 2 1/2 to five gallon ration, widespread dissatisfaction will result.

Government petroleum experts said that nearby oil states already had been allowed increased production quotas in May. Illinois was said, may not be able to produce its quota of 329,200 barrels a day. Michigan's quota was set at 60,500 barrels. While Sen. Brown said he believed Michigan could produce as much as 100,000 barrels, petroleum officials would be disappointed if such a high rate were allowed.

Production quotas for the entire nation in May were set at 3,474,500 barrels a day, compared to a 4,100,000 barrel daily rate in January. But while there is plenty of oil, it was not believed that deliveries to the eastern seaboard for civilian purposes could be stepped up much over the 700,000 barrel a day rate.

CONTRIBUTORS TO $35,000 SITE FUND ARE TO BE REPAID acquired from A. Dietrich Company of New Kensington. The amount agreed upon was $35,000. The City of New Castle could not enter the scrap business and the Greater New Castle Association agreed to raise the $35,000 and dispose of the scrap later. The first meeting to raise the $35,000 was held on March 26 and on Monday, March 30, the entire amount was pledged, the check given to A. Dietrich and the work of clearing the site began.

Deal For Scrap Concluded

Negotiations were entered into with the industry that will occupy the site and late Friday afternoon the deal for the scrap was closed. The money will be in the hands of the contributors within a few days. The entire project marks a high spot in civic co-operation when it is necessary and when properly organized body like the Greater New Castle Association gets back of it.

Incidental With Campaign

Had the announcement been timed it could not have come at a more appropriate moment. Fifteen minutes before the membership campaign began the word was telephoned to Mr. Jewett that the deal was closed and he was enabled to make it at the dinner.

The membership campaign has already started and it is hoped to bring the membership up to 600 within a week's time.

Richard E. Rentz has been named campaign chairman and twenty two members present and potential members.

In the past six months the Greater New Castle Association has amply justified its existence. Through the work of the association and its executive vice president, Roger Jewett, the industrial picture in New Castle brightened. Within six months time the employment figures in the city will be up about 5,000 it is anticipated through new industries and expansion of established industries.

The surge upward in New Castle is a reflection of the work of the Greater New Castle Association.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Farrell Funeral Time

Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Farrell, aged 86, widow of Nelson Farrell, are to be conducted Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Jos. S. Rice Co. chapel, East North street, with Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Farrell, who had been ill for some time, passed away Friday at noon at her home, 10 West Washington street. Her husband preceded her in death 27 years ago.

Born in Lowellville, O., on May 11, 1855, a daughter of George and Belinda Singleton, Mrs. Farrell was the last surviving member of her family. She was a member of the First Baptist church.

Mrs. Farrell was the mother of 12 children, seven of whom are living. They are a son, William Farrell, at home, and six daughters, Mrs. Bessie Nessler, Mrs. Effie Youngling, Mrs. Grace Patton, and Mrs. Ruth Houlette, all of New Castle, Mrs. Ellen Tieche of Sandusky, O., and Mrs. Katherine Deering of Detroit. Fifteen grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren also survive.

The family will receive friends at the funeral chapel this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock this evening from 7 to 9, and Sunday afternoon and evening from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

Frank Farnbaugh.

Frank Farnbaugh, aged 72, of the New Bedford, Pulaski road, passed away Friday afternoon at his home, death being caused by complications following injuries received when he fell in his barn last summer.

Mr. Farnbaugh was a retired Youngstown city fireman and had spent most of his life in that city. A year ago in June he was married to Mrs. William Haid and since that time had been residing on the farm.

In addition to his wife, he leaves the following children by a former marriage: Mrs. Clara Spencer of Geneva, O.; Mrs. Howard Rigby, of Frank Farnbaugh, both of Youngstown, and eight grandchildren.

The body has been removed to the Shriver-Allison South Side funeral home in Youngstown where funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with Rev. H. Miller in charge.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home this evening and Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Mrs. John Boyle

Mrs. Mary Boyle, wife of John Boyle of Hubbard, O., passed away this morning at 1:45 o'clock in St. Elizabeth's hospital, Youngstown, after a three weeks' illness.

Mrs. Boyle, a daughter of the late Thomas and Catherine Boyle, had spent her early life in New Castle. She was a member of St. Patrick's church in Hubbard.

Survivors are her husband; the following children: James and Grace, at home; Mrs. Betty Kish and Francis of Hubbard, Rev. Fr. Columban Boyle of St. Fidelis Seminary, Herman, Pa., and the following brothers and sisters, Philip and Frank Boyle of Pittsburgh, Sister Louise of St. Joseph's Order, Pittsburg, Alice of Cleveland, Michael and George Boyle of New Castle. A brother, Thomas preceded her in death.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mrs. Charles N. Bratschle.

A former New Castle resident, Mrs. Charles N. Bratschle, died early Friday morning at her home in Mansfield, O.

Mrs. Bratschle leaves her husband and three children, Donald, Helen and Lowell.

FIRE IN CARNEGIE

PITTSBURGH, April 25.—Suburban Carnegie suffered a $50,000 fire today when flames broke out in the Autenreith Dollar store. Three fire companies battled the blaze, discovered by Patrolman John Gouniey. A drug store and food market suffered some damage. The $50,000 estimate was made by Police Chief Chris Kiesling.

MOTHER DIES AFTER SAVING FAMILY IN FIRE

about the face and hands, but not as seriously. The daughter Margaret was the only one who escaped unscathed.

According to James and Peter, the last they saw their mother, she was in the kitchen of the house, with her clothing afire. They tried to get back into the house to rescue her, but were driven back by the flames which by that time filled the downstairs of the home.

Unable To Do Anything

Robert Penwell, foreman at the New Castle Lime and Stone Company, whose offices and crusher are just across the road from the Prato home, saw the blaze and spread the alarm. A crew of men from the limestone plant ran to the scene, but were powerless to do anything, there being no water handy. By that time, the interior of the house was a mass of flames.

They summoned an ambulance and had Mr. Prato removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he was given attention, being admitted at 6 o'clock. His condition was said to be serious.

The Prato family lost all their belongings, the fire spreading so rapidly that it was impossible to save anything.

The body of Mrs. Prato, burned beyond recognition, was removed to Cunningham's funeral home at Bessemer. The other members of the family went to the home of an older sister, Mrs. Mary Campana, of Youngstown.

Mrs. Prato was born in Chambersburg, Pa., but had been a resident of the Hillside district for a number of years. In addition to the husband and three children residing at home, there are two sons, George and Frank, of Hanover, Pa.; and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Campana, of Youngstown. She leaves, also, a sister, Carrie, in Harrisburg.

Funeral services for Mrs. Prato will be conducted from the Cunningham funeral home, Bessemer, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Raymond M. Touvel, pastor of the Bessemer Presbyterian church, in charge. Interment will be in Bessemer cemetery.

CORREGIDOR STILL CHALLENGES JAPS

from MacArthur stated briefly that "there was intermittent harassing fire on the fortified island (Corregidor), our batteries took hostile troop assemblies under fire."

The communique gave no details about the continuing battle of Manila Bay, but military experts interpreted the official report as indicating that the Japs still have not resumed their aerial attacks upon the fort.

Shelling of Japanese troop assemblies on Bataan supported the belief that Corregidor's main batteries are intact, despite the numerous bombing and shelling attacks since the outbreak of war. Wainwright's gunners have taken a terrific toll of the Japanese.

Latest advice also indicated that the defenders of Panay Island still are resisting Japanese pressure, although the enemy is moving on relentlessly to take over the rich island.

In northern Luzon and on the southern island of Mindanao, isolated American-Filipino patrols are understood to be continuing their harassing tactics, striking at Japanese communication lines and raiding and burning warehouses and enemy outposts.

St. Vitus Church Spaghetti Dinner

Annual Dinner On Monday,
May 18; Proceeds To Purchase Defense War Bonds

For the thirty-third consecutive year, the St. Vitus church will conduct the annual spaghetti dinner, at the Cathedral, the date for this event being Monday, May 18.

In keeping with the times of the day, the dinner will be a patriotic one, and all proceeds received, will be used by the church to purchase defense war bonds. Last year the dinner attracted a large crowd of 2,000, and it is expected that a larger crowd will attend this year to fulfill a worthy cause—the purchasing of war bonds, in this emergency period.

The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor of the church, urges the co-operation of his parishioners and others in making the event, the most successful ever held, and stated: "In this critical hour all citizens must do their utmost for the final victory that must be ours. The members of St. Vitus church should show their patriotic spirit by making some sacrifices for such a noble cause. All our local Associations have made a splendid response to the appeal of our nation in buying Defense stamps and bonds. Deeply grateful for the religious freedom which it has enjoyed in America, our Church too, must show its loyalty in a practical way by buying at least one or two $1,000 defense war bonds—and we will with your co-operation."

The Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso, assistant pastor of the church, will be the general chairman of the dinner, assisted by the church committee, the Mother of Sorrow lodge, the children of Mary Sodality and the Holy Name Society.

Mrs. Mary E. Conli, has been chosen as chairman of kitchen and dining room, and the supervisor of kitchen in general is Mrs. Mary Blonni. Other entertainments will follow the dinner, which starts at 5:30 o'clock. At 9:30 o'clock, the annual dance will be featured, music to be provided by a popular orchestra.

On Sunday evening, 7:30, at the Finnish Lutheran church, the church choir of the Finnish Lutheran church of Warren, Ohio, will present a concert, under the direction of Fabian Luoma.

The visiting choir has had much success in its past performances, and their appearance is welcomed. The concert is open to the public, with no admission charge.

Rev. Einar W. Lehto, the local pastor has attended one of the choir's concerts, and was much pleased with their work. Members of the choir and director wish no remuneration for their appearance in concert here.

Refreshments will be served in the church dining rooms, after the concert, by the northern section of the congregation.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

The handicapped child should not be pitied.

Better, accept the situation and make the best of it.

Children, crippled or blind or deaf, are handicapped.

Mentally deficient children make up another group.

They cannot compete in school with other children.

Certain children are handicapped by unsocial behavior.

They lie, steal, fight or withdraw from all social activity.

Some have physical, mental or psychological maladjustments.

In the latter group speech defects are frequently seen.

Parents should try to treat the child as if he were normal.

Feeling sorry for him will not help him.

Too much attention may make him entirely dependent.

Dedicate New Flag And Pole At B. And O. Shops

Superintendent Edwards And Guy J. Wadlinger Are Principal Speakers

With several hundred men from the early day shift present for the occasion, a new flag pole and flag, purchased with contributions given by shop employees, was dedicated at the New Castle Junction Terminal of the B. and O. Friday afternoon.

G. E. Burkle, general foreman, presided, and introduced Major Guy J. Wadlinger, well known local World War veteran, who made the principal dedication address.

J. Edwards, Jr., new superintendent of the Akron division was also present and spoke.

Afterwards, Bob Dufford, local Boy Scout, played To The Colors as the handsome new flag was slowly hoisted to the top of the new 60-foot pole.

Below the American flag flies the flag presented the shops signifying their 100 per cent contribution in the current Bonds for Victory campaign.

County Scrap Collection Will Start Monday

Scrap collection trucks take to the highways Monday morning, April 27. The county collection starts and during the week it is hoped that every farm in the county will be visited. With the splendid results of the city and borough collections, it is anticipated the farmers will come through with a heavy total.

Not every home on New Castle has been visited but this is because the total scrap collected has exceeded the estimates. The homes will be visited and citizens are asked to be patient for a time.

The capacity of the trucks is about thirty tons per day and they have been turning in this amount. Hence it is easily seen that the time element has been against getting the city covered in the week.

Wave Of Unrest Sweeping France

(International News Service) LONDON, April 25.—A new wave of unrest and anti-Nazi agitation has swept France since Pierre Laval's return to power last week, it was stated authoritatively today.

Numerous cases of burning and dynamiting stocks of food requisitioned for German soldiers in occupied France have been reported, as well as fresh attacks on Nazi soldiers.

There has been widespread sabotage of factories, railway lines and electric cables, it was stated.

The Romans are reported to have esteemed amber above gold.

Several Small Fires Reported

Slight Damage Results In Blazes Friday Afternoon And Evening

Several small fires were reported Friday afternoon and evening, damage being slight.

At 4:10 o'clock, a grass fire was reported from Riverview avenue.

At 5:45 o'clock, firemen were summoned to West Washington street extension, when sparks from a grass fire blew onto a pile of lumber alongside a garage owned by Albert Reynolds. The lumber was destroyed, damage of around $15 resulting.

At 8:22 o'clock Friday evening, firemen were called to the home of Anne Ledini, of 1313 South Jefferson street, by an alarm from Box 58. Someone smoking in bed set the bed afire, resulting in damage of around $20.

At 11:25 o'clock, a false alarm was sounded from Box 413, at the corner of Winslow and Stanton avenues.

HUNDREDS OF R. A. F. PLANES AGAIN RAID ROSTOCK IN GERMANY

beck, whose main manufacturing area was pulverized in what the British now term a "new era" in air bombardment.

It was pointed out that all the Heinkel factories at Rostock are interlocking units and that damage to one means stoppage of all production.

Returning pilots said the pall of smoke over the town was so dense that searchlights could not penetrate it.

Returning pilots said weather conditions were so favorably they were able to observe that the second attack on Rostock, vital Baltic commercial port was carried out with "good results," especially against the Heinkel aircraft works which suffered heavy damage in the previous bombing.

Drop Bombs On Plant

An official British announcement said that heavy type bombs were dropped on both the Heinkel works and the Neptune shipyard. More large fires were left burning in the city.

Eight attacks were made against the docks at Dunkirk and airfields in occupied France and the low countries.

One Hudson bomber hit a supply ship off the Norwegian coast.

Two bombers were missing as a result of the night's operations.

No sooner had the British bombers which conducted the second successive damaging assault against Rostock's war production factories returned than other R. A. F. fliers struck out anew across the channel to pummel the Nazi-occupied coast of France.

Observers on the Folkestone shore of England heard heavy gunfire along the French channel coast and what they believed to be periodic anti-aircraft fire as British craft continued to carry the air war to the Nazis. The point of attack was reported in the vicinity of Cap Griz Nez.

Bomb British Coast

Coastal towns of England during the night and early morning suffered from heavy bombing by Nazi planes, and although they resulted in a number of casualties and considerable residential property damage they were on a minor scale.

London evening newspapers were jubilant over the large successes being scored by the Royal Air Force in its devastating attacks against Reich industries, naval bases and air-dromes.

"Even at the height of its power the Luftwaffe never launched raids of such intensity," said the Evening Star.

Coupled with the first publication of photographs showing the devastation which resulted from the R. A. F.'s tremendous raid March 28 against the industrial city of Liebeck, the authoritative statements on results of the first Rostock attack and yesterday's pounding of the Port of Flushing Britons were given a great spiritual uplift.

The concerted, shattering assaults have convinced the people that the R. A. F. not only means to destroy Germany's industrial war centers but is fully capable of the job now.

The Daily Mail proclaimed that the R. A. F. assaults had brought about the coming of a new word, "Lubecking," to describe devastating aerial assaults.

"Lubeckings now has been coined in the English language as an example of a supreme blitz," said the newspaper, "Concentrates (originated after the severe raids on Coventry) have now gone out of vogue."

As the R. A. F. pursued its attacks against occupied Europe throughout the daylight hours large numbers of planes were observed flying at high altitude down the Thames estuary shortly after noon headed for the channel.

At least 12 persons were known to have been killed in the Nazi assaults on the English coast. It was feared the total death toll may be heavy.

Thickly populated districts of one town suffered heavy damage by low-diving German bombers. Small stores and houses were crushed into shambles. Searchers worked feverishly to uncover bodies from the debris.

WAR TO DIM BRIGHT LIGHTS ON CONEY ISLAND

Take a good look at this picture—it's Coney Island at its brightest and gayest. Coney Island will not glare like this again—until after the duration. Coney's bright lights have been ordered dimmed, masked or turned off because the glare from New York's famed seaside play spot silhouettes ships at sea. Even the street lights are affected. Where each standard bore two glaring 345-watt lamps they now contain but one 115-watt light and these have been blacked on the seaward side.

German Bombers Damage Exeter

(International News Service)
A SOUTHWEST ENGLISH COAST TOWN, April 25.—There was death and desolation in this historic town on the southwest coast of England today—a town visited by thousands of tourists in days gone by and whose cathedral is one of the most beautiful and famous in the world.

Editor's Note: A German high command communiqué identified the bombing town as Exeter, saying it had been attacked in reprisal for British raids. The Exeter cathedral, built in the 13th and 14th centuries, is a world-famous masterpiece of decorated gothic architecture with Norman Transept towers. Exeter was an ancient Roman town.

No bombs hit the cathedral, but it had a narrow escape. Many homes and buildings were demolished in the night raid, however, and hundreds of persons were rendered homeless. British authorities officially characterized the raid as "severe" and said the death toll was "fairly heavy" and the injured numerous.

German bombers damaged a well-known school (probably the famous Exeter grammar school, founded in 1332) but the boy pupils fortunately were on vacation.

PROFITABLE COLLECT CALL

(International News Service)
DALLAS Would you accept a long distance collect phone call from a person you had never heard of? J. L. Ghily of Dallas did, and he will probably never refuse one in the future.

The night after losing a wallet containing $9200 in cash and a check for $2500, his phone rang and the operator asked if he would accept the charges on a collect call from someone whose name he didn't know. He debated a moment then decided to take a chance. Fortunately, lady luck was holding bank night for him. A girl from another part of the state had found his wallet and money while visiting Dallas and was able to trace him through cards and letters the wallet contained when she reached home.

Registration On Monday Not For Military Service

No Lottery To Be Held To Give Them Order Numbers Says Governor

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 25.—Men between the ages of 45 and 65 who will register Monday for Selective Service are not eligible under present law for military service, Gov. Arthur H. James said today.

Their registration was ordered to provide the government with a census of men available in the war effort, explained the governor. Consequently, no national lottery will be held for the purpose of giving them order numbers.

Registration places will be open Monday from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. All schools and liquor establishments will be closed and teachers and liquor store clerks will assist in the registration. Approximately 1,000,000 men will register.

Racing Pigeons Fly To Erie Today

This morning, at 11 o'clock, seven crates of pigeons, numbered several hundred, were liberated by W. W. Truxall, acting agent of the Railway Express Agency, and an assistant, near their office on West Washington street.

The birds got away from their places of captivity very quickly, a few groups swooping left and others right, but after reaching some altitude, they soon formed, and dashed north, heading for Erie, the "home plate."

The pigeons are the property of the Erie Racing Pigeon club. Mr. Truxall states that it is expected these birds will be shipped here for liberation, about twice a week, for the next sixty days.

FIREMAN FATALLY HURT

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 25.—Robert Redington, 17, of Pittsford township, died in the hospital here today of injuries received yesterday when he and 11 other volunteer firemen were trapped by a dynamite explosion while fighting shanty fires.

State police held for questioning Michael Pica, 53, who they said admitted placing 12 sticks of dynamite in the building a year ago.

Supplies for United Nations Flow Into Africa

The long arm of American production reaches out to East Africa and dumps cargoes of vital supplies for the United Nations at the base established somewhere in Eritrea. Trucks are unloaded as soon as unloaded and after assembly by American mechanics are rushed to where the need for them is the greatest. This is a scene at an unloading depot. Soon the trucks unloaded here will be working against the Axis in the Middle East.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

SLATTED FLOORS AID TURKEY SUN-PORCHES

Slatted wooden floors for turkey sun-porches are beyond the experimental stage and many turkey growers prefer the slatted floors to wire.

Hobart Sanders, Sugar Grove, Warren county, was one of the first to try out the slats in 1932. These slats lasted seven seasons without any repairs, when some started to rot, especially at the ends where the wood split. Sanders then laid 1 1/2-inch mesh 16-gauge hexagon wire netting over the slatted floors.

Weak slats became strong enough to carry the direct weight of the turkeys when the wire was laid. After three seasons the hexagon 16-gauge wire was in good shape and seemed serviceable for a few more seasons.

Practical slats are 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 inches wide and laid 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 inches apart. They should be an inch thick. Rough lumber is satisfactory, but the oak, hemlock, and white pine are some of the native lumber of the area.

The slats of the floors can be 24 to 30 inches apart. About half the droppings fall directly between the slats. As the turkeys walk across the floors they push some of the remaining droppings down between the slats. The sun dries up some of the droppings, and during a rain the rain water washes them. As the turkeys walk over the floors they scatter them with their toe nails. Turkey poulters three weeks of age will freely use these slatted floors.

Slatted floors have the following advantages:

1. The materials for their construction are more likely to be available during the duration than wire floors.

2. The original cost of construction usually is less than most other floors.

3. They are more durable and last longer than many types of wire. The lifetime of the slats and joists can be prolonged—(a) if not too many nails are used, to keep splitting of the wood to a minimum; (b) if the slats and joists are painted with oil or creosote.

4. Turkeys are not so likely to suffer from sore feet as turkeys confined on wire.

BRIDGE-GRAFT TO SAVE TREES GIRDLED BY MICE

Some apple trees in Lawrence county were partially or completely girdled by mice during the past winter. Complete girdling will result in the death of the tree unless remedial measures are used. Partially girdled trees may not die, but will suffer a set-back in proportion to the severity of the injury. In either case, prompt attention is necessary to prevent loss.

A prompt and effective job of bridge-grafting will usually insure such quick and complete recovery that the tree shows little if any set-back.

Some trees perhaps are not worth bridge-grafting. One is the very young tree whose trunk is under an inch in diameter. Another is the tree which has had all of the bark removed from the base of the trunk and for some distance out along the main roots. Still another is the variety of low market value.

The best time for bridge-grafting is in early spring as soon as the bark begins to slip. It is important to survey the trees at this time to determine which ones, if any, have been injured. Too often the injury is discovered only at mid-summer, when the sickly appearance of the tree prompts an investigation. Although bridge-grafting may be successfully done at that season, the tree will already have suffered severely, the grafting work will be more difficult and the chances for successful recovery are reduced.

GOOD POULTRY RANGE REDUCES FEED COSTS

Feed costs can be reduced by providing the poultry flock with plenty of home-grown feed on the range. The ideal poultry range furnishes a continuous supply of fresh, green, succulent, nutritious feed throughout the growing season.

Poultry farmers all over the state have been pleased with Laidino clover mixtures used containing a total of 24 pounds of the following ingredients: domestic ryegrass, 10 pounds; Kentucky bluegrass, 6 pounds; Canada bluegrass, 4 pounds; redtop, 2 pounds; and Laidino clover, 2 pounds.

This mixture is seeded with 1 from clothing the minute they get out in the sunlight, but the tiny, soft, white moth eggs can go undetected. In four to eight days in the summer time an egg hatches into the worm or larvae that does the real destructive work.

Dry cleaning kills moths, destroys eggs and larvae. So does washing with a strong solution of neutral soap. A good sunning and airing accompanied by a brisk brushing will destroy signs of moths. Miss Quinn points out, the moths cannot stand the bright sun, the larvae drop to the ground and the eggs are crushed or dislodged in the brushing.

After the clothing is free of moths, it may be stored in trunks and chests with tight-fitting lids, light wrapped or put away in paper bags, wrapped in paper, or sealed in boxes. It is best to store paper bags and bundles where they are not likely to get torn.

For extra protection, it is a good idea to use some naphthalene flakes or paradichlorobenzene, or "mothballs." As these chemicals evaporate, they drive off a gas which discourages the moth larvae from feeding on the wool, then kills the larvae if the gas is concentrated enough.

Sprinkle the crystals between the folds of the clothing, or tie in a cloth sack and hang them inside the paper bags. In closets, which must be kept tightly closed, the crystals may be put on the top shelf or in muslin bags hung from hooks.

SAVE ANTI-FREEZE FOR WINTER USE NEXT YEAR

Anti-freeze solution for automobiles, tractors and trucks may not be available next year because of war needs for chemicals used in their manufacture, so Lawrence county farmers will do well to drain radiators and save anti-freeze for use next year.

Anti-freeze will keep well if stored in a cool place in airtight glass containers or stone jugs. Extension engineers of the United States Department of Agriculture and the Pennsylvania State college suggest that the cooling system be flushed with clean water after draining and before refilling.

Farmers whose tractor tires are filled with water and anti-freeze should drain this out, flush well and refill with water. This anti-freeze may be saved, too, in containers which will not rust or corrode.

PLAN SHORT COURSE FOR TRAINING COW TESTERS

A short course for training prospective cow testers will be offered at the Pennsylvania State college May 4 to 16.

Testing of whole milk, record work and some instruction in feeding and management will be given during the two weeks.

There is a pressing need for testers. Pennsylvania has 119 dairy herd improvement associations, each of which must be manned by a tester if it is to be of service to dairymen. The supply of available testers is exhausted.

NEED VITAMIN "A" DAILY FOR HEALTHY BODIES

Vitamin A, if included in generous amounts in the diet, may help to prevent accidents in case of blackouts, explains Miss Ann Quinn, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county.

Vitamin A helps us to see better in a dim light, and night driving is easier when we have plenty of this vitamin in our diets.

Green and yellow colored foods are the best sources of vitamin A. The greener and thinner the leaf, the richer it is in vitamin A. Some of the vitamin A rich foods are carrots, yellow squash, pumpkins, yellow turnips, apricots, yellow peaches, Swiss chard, kale, spinach, leafy greens, broccoli, peas, green string beans, tomatoes, butter, liver, egg yolk and cod liver or halibut oil.

Children need vitamin A for growth normally when their diets are lacking in this vitamin. A person who does not receive enough vitamin A from the foods he eats is more susceptible to infection, his hair becomes brittle and dry and his skin becomes dry.

Vitamin A is not easily lost in storage or in cooking, says Miss Quinn. Pasteurization of milk does not destroy vitamin A. If the diet contains more vitamin A than the body needs, it is stored in the liver.

Vitamin works best in cooperation with other vitamins. It is essential then that our diets include foods containing all the various vitamins, for only then can we expect to build and maintain healthy bodies.

START NOW TO FIGHT COMMON CLOTHES MOTH

One of the best year-round defenses against the clothes moth is good housekeeping. Moths like to eat hair, feathers, fur and wool, so never leave any of these lying carelessly around the house.

Ordinarily, moths won't bother clothes that are worn frequently, but they are likely to set up housekeeping in a wool coat or dress that hangs in the back of a dark closet for weeks at a time. To guard against any possible moth infestation, it is an excellent idea to sun and brush garments occasionally.

Half the battle is won if you make sure there are no moths, moth larvae or moth eggs on the clothing before you store it. Moths, the eggs and larvae are not likely to get out in the sunlight, but the tiny, soft, white moth eggs can go undetected. In four to eight days in the summer time an egg hatches into the worm or larvae that does the real destructive work.

Dry cleaning kills moths, destroys eggs and larvae. So does washing with a strong solution of neutral soap. A good sunning and airing accompanied by a brisk brushing will destroy signs of moths. Miss Quinn points out, the moths cannot stand the bright sun, the larvae drop to the ground and the eggs are crushed or dislodged in the brushing.

After the clothing is free of moths, it may be stored in trunks and chests with tight-fitting lids, light wrapped or put away in paper bags, wrapped in paper, or sealed in boxes. It is best to store paper bags and bundles where they are not likely to get torn.

Girl Reserves, Hi-Y, Have Social Event

In the W. Y. C. A. auditorium Friday evening, the Girl Reserves and Hi-Y clubs had a successful social event which took the form of a "barnyard" social.

Nearly a hundred Ne-Ca-Hi students, dressed in "farmer style" attended.

Jim Minick acted as chairman, assisted by Audrey Evans and Charles Book.

Music was furnished by the Hi-Y orchestra, under the direction of Jim White and Art Chill. Players included Jim Mitchell, Bill McGuire, Victor Owak, Bill Usselson, Bill Gorley and Bob Johnson.

The feature of the evening was a box social, which contributed much to the success of the party. An entertainment program was given by club talent. Dancing and games were also enjoyed.

Flood Threats Are Now Abating In Colorado Areas

(International News Service)

DENVER, April 25.—The threat of additional floods in Denver and other Colorado cities abated today as receding waters left three dead in their wake.

The U. S. Weather Bureau cancelled a general flood warning and announced that the Platte river and other streams continued to fall during the night.

While a rise was expected during the day with warmer weather, streams were not expected to reach the overflow stage.

The Platte in the Denver area smashed two bridges and spread over a wide area of lowland farms near Littleton, south of the city, and Brighton, south of the city.

Two persons died in the Trinidad area as the Purgatoire river spread mud and debris over a wide area.

The Colorado Southern discontinued schedules south of Trinidad, due to undermining of the tracks east of the city. It was expected repairs would occupy a day or two.

The third flood victim was 14-year-old Fred Davis, who was feared drowned in a flooded creek in the Canon City area.

Wins Scholarship To Curtis Institute

Miss Julia Johns, Muskingum Student, To Sing At Highland Church Sunday

Miss Julia Johns, a student at Muskingum college who is now on tour with the college quartet, has been named one of five chosen for a scholarship at Curtis Institute.

On April 7, Miss Johns went to Philadelphia to try for a scholarship, along with 160 contestants.

Miss Johns will sing Sunday morning in Highland United Presbyterian church, and on Tuesday morning, with Miss Jeanne Follette, another member of the college quartet, will present a concert at the senior high school for the students. Their accompanist will be Lucille Cowden of Cambridge, O.

Miss Johns, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Johns, 15 West Reynolds street, is a graduate of the local high school. She was a member of the high school capella choir which is directed by Robert A. Duff.

TERROR REIGNS IN MADAGASCAR

View of Tananarive, Madagascar

A reign of terror, aimed at Free French sympathizers, has been launched in the huge French island of Madagascar, according to reports received in London. Madagascar lies athwart the Allies' route to the Indian ocean by way of the Cape of Good Hope. The terror, it was reported, was instigated by the new Vichy government of pro-Axis Pierre Laval.

Free French Are Being Deported
At Madagascar

(International News Service)
LONDON, April 25—The purge of Free French sympathizers on the Vichy-controlled island of Madagascar has resulted in the deportation of many civilians and army men, including high officers, Free French sources in London said today.

A spokesman for General Charles De Gaulle said, however, that he had no confirmation of Washington reports that a French naval squadron had arrived at Madagascar from Dakar, French West Africa.

The spokesman said he assumed the Vichy government's purge had been completed since it was known six months ago that action was being taken against Gaullists. Those accused as Free French sympathizers who were not reported to unoccupied France received prison sentences up to five years, it was said.

The Daily Telegraph said meanwhile that Paris radio comments on the situation at Madagascar

Greatest Battle
Is Now Nearing

(International News Service)
LONDON, April 25—Occupied Europe's "V for Victory" army had been urged today to prepare for the opening in six weeks of "what may prove to be the greatest battle in the history of the world."

Britain's mysterious "Colonel V. Britton," leader of the underground army, forecast the gigantic conflict last night in a broadcast beamed toward the countries now under Germany's domination.

The battle, said the "Colonel," will be the last chance for the Nazis. "If this onslaught fails, they will never find the strength again," he said. "To beat this attempt, England needs all the men, the means, the courage, the skill and the staying power that we possess. We need them, and the Russians need them and you, the V-army behind the German lines."

When the Nazis strike, England, too, will attack, the Russians will attack "and you in Europe will attack," Colonel Britton said. While awaiting the attack signal, the V-army was urged to study the means of disrupting "one of the Nazis' most vulnerable points—their communication lines."

"Think about it and think what you can do when the moment comes," the "colonel" said.

Stagger Plan
For Employees
Seems Favored

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 25—Gov. Arthur H. James today expressed himself as favoring staggering hours for employees in order to alleviate transportation bottlenecks.

"It is by such means that traffic and transportation bottlenecks can be opened," he stated, "and essential fires and automobiles conserved."

The governor disclosed that at his request the Public Utility Commission is conducting surveys throughout the state and "reports will be in hand within a few days showing the preferable methods and scope of the staggered hours programs."

A staggered-hour plan will be put into effect for state employees, he stated.

The chief executive advised employers to make their own investigations also "to determine whether staggered hours for their employees might not help relieve local transportation and traffic problems."

Knitting Class
At Shanafelt Home

Mrs. W. C. Shanafelt, of 405 West Madison avenue, entertained the Knitting Class, taught by Mrs. Maurice Boyd, on Friday evening, at her home, when twenty members attended.

Knitting for the Red Cross Society was the diversion of the evening. A splendid lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Carlson, and Mrs. Omar Mauck.

The next meeting will be in four weeks, at the home of Mrs. W. C. Shanafelt.

Shenango Juniors
Present Comedy
Junior Class Gives Matinee
And Evening Performance
Of Play On Friday

Previewing their evening performance of "Uncle Si Hits a New High," the junior class of the Shenango township school Friday evening gave a matinee performance of their comedy production for their co-pupils in the school auditorium.

In the evening a large crowd enjoyed the humor of the play and the credible acting of their parts by the cast, particularly that of Harriet McGary as Aunt Winona, and Anthony Staff as Uncle Cy Sapp.

Scene of the play was aboard the ship, "Happiness."

Adelbert Valensi took the part of Paul Sapp; Viola Tuscano was cast as Rae Mooney from Dubuque; Mary Jane Karski, as the mysterious Spring Heather; Mary Abraham was Julia, a French maid; Mae Quarterston took the part of an office girl.

Georgia Thomas was Aunt Winona's pretty young niece; Agnes Zurasky took the part of a society matron, with Bill Sarbo cast as a member of the English nobility, as a foil. Hay fever victim was Charles Terpilowski; lady osteopath, Louise Duckworth; steward, Pete Moran.

Faculty members who supervised the production were Mrs. Theima Hoover, director of the play, and Alfred Barnes. During the intermission a gift from the junior class was presented to Mrs. Hoover.

Cyclist Injured
On Friday Night

John McKinnis, aged 26, of 1933 rear Hamilton street, suffered a dislocated shoulder when the motorcycle he was riding hit a curb on East Lutton street Friday evening about 7:55 o'clock.

He is confined to New Castle hospital.

MORAVIA STREET

Relay Carnival Will End Today

No Marks Broken Friday; Al Blozis, Georgetown, Is Individual Star

PENN STATE GRABS SPRINT MEDLEY TOGA

By FRANK J. BURKE
(International News Service Sports Writer)
PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—At least three records—javelin, pole vault and one-mile college relay—were expected to topple today in the final day's running at trackdom's granddaddy—the 48th edition of Penn Relay Carnival at Franklin Field.

A new mile standard was anticipated from four Georgetown University youths who recently set a 3:17.2 world indoor mark. Other marks might come from A. Richmond Moreau, New Hampshire pole vaulter, and Bob Peoples, who set a naval ensign, who set an American javelin standard at Southern California.

Indiana University and New York University renewed their bitter rivalry in the two-mile and four-mile relays with the Hoosier's Campbell Kane set to battle NYU's Les Mac-Mitchell at anchor in both races.

MacMitchell Beaten
Sweet victory came to Kane when he edged out MacMitchell in the last mile leg of the distance medley yesterday. The Indiana lad, who ate MacMitchell's dust last year, again nosed out the New Yorker in the half mile leg of the sprint medley—which went to Penn State in 3 minutes, 26.5 seconds, with Syracuse second and Seton Hall third.

A single new relay record went into the books during Friday's opener, despite ideal conditions. Observers figured it was just a question of "the runners were good but the marks were better."

Spectators will be watching for a comeback by Tom Todd, anchor for Virginia's 480-yard shuttle hurdle relay team. Todd fell ingloriously on his face in the middle of the 120-yard high hurdles race yesterday.

Today's card is rounded out by the half-mile college relay, one-mile freshman college relay and the high jump. Camp Edwards, Mass., is slated to win the military service mile with John Woodruff, ex-Pitt ace, running anchor. The defense industry mile is a tossup.

Al Blozis, Georgetown's giant weightman, proved the individual star of the first day, winning the shotput at 54 feet, 11 inches, and the discus at 160 feet, 8 1/2 inches with little opposition. Leroy Schwarkopf, Yale, won the two-mile without trouble in 9 minutes, 22.4 seconds.

Little Xavier University, from New Orleans, dethroned defending champion Duke in the quarter-mile relay, which was marked by disqualification of NYU. Penn and Penn State for false starts or illegal baton-handling. Xavier's time was 4:17 seconds.

A dusky speedster from Xavier, Clarence Doak, captured the 400-meter hurdles race in 5:52 seconds, while Walter Hall, of Tufts, shaded Sherwood Finley, Yale, to win the 120 yard high hurdles in 14.7 seconds, after being nipped by Finley in the heat.

FASHION NOTE
Ray Post, released rookie pitcher, is the only member of the Indians who wears the old-fashioned red undershirt.

Greenleaf Has Big Lead In Cue Meet

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—Ralph Greenleaf, Chicago's cue wizard, took a wide lead in the national pocket billiards championship tournament today by virtue of a brilliant 125-16 victory over Philadelphia's Jimmy Caras.

Caras was defeated by the same tactics he used against Greenleaf in Wednesday's upset. The Chicago master played a game of safeties which left the Philadelphian able to score in but four of the 17 innings.

Willie Mosconi, Philadelphia, meanwhile, defeated Andy Ponzi, New York, 125-112, in a nip-and-tuck battle, thus enhancing Greenleaf's chances for the crown.

Local Track Team Ready For Warren

New Castle High Faces Ohio Thinclads In Dual Meet Tuesday Afternoon

Given a welcomed green light by the athletic council, New Castle high's track battalion has attained top form for Tuesday's dual meet with Warren high, in the Ohio town.

Coach "Bill" Klee will send his slug grinders through a final workout Monday afternoon at Taggart stadium.

The thinclads will leave New Castle Tuesday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock. The jaunt will be made in a privately owned bus, this, luckily, being the only form of transportation available.

Bill Paradise, the crack half mile and 440-yard dash man, figures to pile up his share of points. Bob Lee, one of the most versatile athletes in the school's history, will vie in the shotput and discus event.

Russ Currie and Bob Stewart loom as outstanding performers for the locals.

Establish New American Mark In Drake Meet

Oklahoma U. Sprint Medley Relay Team Smashes Record; Meet Ends Today

By OTTO WEBER
(International News Service Sports Writer)
DES MOINES, Ia., April 25.—With one new American record already sailed away, the thirty-third Drake Relays swung toward a driving windup today, with most of the big finals scheduled for this afternoon.

The new American record was set yesterday by the University of Oklahoma sprint medley relay team, running a quarter mile, two 220 yards and an anchor half mile, and the bulk of the credit went to Bill Lyda for his performance in the anchor half. The time was 3:23.

The surprise of the first day's events was furnished by Virgil Alexander of Miami, O., when he beat Ollie Hunter of Notre Dame, the defending champion, in the two mile. Hunter was badly winded at the finish, and Gill came from 75 yards behind on the last lap to win in the slow time of 9:25.3.

Pauline View, Tex., set a new meet record of 3:36.7 in the college sprint medley (relay) events are divided into university and college divisions, and Illinois won the university distance medley, with Notre Dame second and Michigan third, in a time of 10:17.5.

Bill Christopher of Rice beat out Lee Farmer of Iowa for the broad jump title, setting 24 feet 1 5/8 inches in his best leap against 23 feet 5 3/4 inches for the Iowa star. Bob Fitch had no trouble in getting the discus title with a heave of 139.66 feet.

Coe College added a third meet record in beating out Iowa State Teachers in the mile relay. Coe's time was 3:23.6.

Memorial Stakes At Jamaica Today

Sixteen Three-Year Old Will Parade To Post In $25,000 Added Race

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, April 25.—The eyes of the famous Blue Grass country, from which we have just returned, and the rest of racing America will be trained on Jamaica track here this afternoon when sixteen three-year-olds, largest number of competitors to compete in many years, parade to the post in the sixteenth running of the $25,000 added Wood Memorial stakes.

This, the East's annual Kentucky Derby preview, should be a three-horseshoe race. Off The Record, Apache, from the Belair stud, Colchis, two-time conqueror of Alsab, and Ben Whitaker's Requested, have to be given the call. Though Colchis is not eligible for the Derby, the fact he's in there today gives the betting public a good chance to get a line on the other two who must be considered the East's hopes in the famous "run for the roses."

In addition to the above trio, the following are slated to go postward: Opening Bid, Fair Call, American Wolf, Bucksin, First Fiddle, Scotland Light, Blue D'O, Kings Abbey, Incoming, Wood Robin, Ramilies, Salto and Domingo.

With the scratching, yesterday, of Col. E. R. Bradley's Bless Me and the doubtful status of the Colomet stable's Sun Again and the Green-tree outfit's Devil Diver, the wood has taken on much added significance.

If Apache wins in good time it will take a lot of tall talking to convince those in the know. Both on New York's West 49th Street and Louisville's main street that he can be beaten at Churchill Downs.

WELL REPRESENTED
EVANSTON, Ill.—More than 200 former Northwestern university athletes are now serving in the United States armed services, the Wildcat athletic department announced today. At least 18 former Wildcat team captains are in the service.

THEY'RE CRACK RIFLE SHOTS

It's hard to beat this combination of crack shooters. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Smythe of Aurora, O. Both are champions, each winning honors at the recent Sea Island, Ga., Invitation Skeet tourney.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Saturday's sports reel:

From his hospital bed at Howard Field, Canal Zone, Staff Sgt. Ralph "Ruffles" Johns reports that he is improving nicely after having his tonsils yanked. The former gate crasher is in charge of all postal activities on Howard Field, serves as a master of ceremonies and cooks up shows and dances for the Zone.

John pens a few sidelights regarding some of the New Castleites around Panama. "Sergeant Loudin is a great morale builder at France Lee besides being tops as an m. c.," the local soldier writes. Mr. Francisco of Sheep Hill district, and Don Aven of Croton avenue are doing more than their share as civilians in construction work.

Corp. Andy Palmer, Sergt. Dom Chirozzi, in charge of photo lab at Howard Field; Corp. A. Chirozzi, a brother; Sergeant Boudien of east side, Corp. Ed. Norris, another east sider; Corporal Peluso, Mahoningtown; Private George Hawkey, Edward Bozart (civilian), Private Pete Lombardo and Private Pete Lombardo are all well, Johns concludes.

Ordinarily, contributions of an anonymous nature or those bearing initials are used to aid this scribbler in developing marksmanship in hitting the waste basket every time. R. E. Le, however, dropped in a card which rates mention. The informant predicts that Johnny Mize, with that short Polo grounds right field fence staring him in the face, should club between 50 and 60 homers, that is, if he's feeling well. The Polo wall is 257-feet compared to 310 in St. Louis.

From the Parris Island Marine training base, Vincent A. Audino and Fred Maciarelli, ace high sports followers here, send greetings to their New Castle friends. . . . Pvt. John "Jiggers" Fonzono, stationed in Camp Wheeler, Georgia, writes a similar letter.

Hal White, Detroit's sensational rookie, who scored shutouts in his first two visits to the knoll, has given up only 12 hits so far. In case of an air raid in New York during a Yankee night game, arrangements have been made to shelter 55,000 persons. . . . Johnny Vander Meer, the Cincy twirler with a pair of no-hitters to his credit, refuses to accommodate autographers on the day he's pitching? Any other day, yes.

Emerson Dickman, booked to enter the navy, has been unconditionally released by the Boston Red Sox. . . . Enos Slaughter, one of the most improved players in the majors, fanned only 28 times last year. . . . Chile Gomez, second baseman whom Washington's Clark Griffith bought from Mexico recently, isn't a stranger in the big leagues. In 1935 and '36 he was a member of the Phils. His name then was Jose Gomez. No relation to "Goofy," so far as I know.

City-County Loop Meeting On Friday
City-County Independent Baseball league officials held a meeting on Friday night at 112 West Washington street.

An opening still exist for one more team. Any organization desiring to enter will have until Wednesday to do so.

Managers and captains are asked to attend next Wednesday evening's meeting when the schedule will be drawn and other matters of importance discussed. Charlie Bishop, Snyder and Adam Grill are requested to be present.

Seven Run Splurge In Ninth Spills Red Sox; Bucaneers Kayeod, 9-5

GIANTS WIN, 3-1; HOP INTO SECOND

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 25.—The New York Yankees were surging along at the head of the American league parade today with the happy remembrance of a fighting finish that gave them an 8 to 5 victory over the Boston Red Sox yesterday.

While the Yankees were overcoming a 5 to 1 deficit going into the ninth, Cleveland climbed into third place above Boston with a 2 to 0 shutout over the Browns.

Dynamite Explodes
Joe Gordon's two-run homer topped off the Yankees blast that sunk the Bostonians and pitchers Dick Newsome and Mike Ryba.

Dickey's single, followed by a single by pinch-hitter Heinrich, a double by pinch-hitter Buddy Rosar and a one-bagger by Priddy finished Newsome. Crossett's double left the Yankees only a run behind and the tying marked came in on Selkirk's infield out. Keller's fly put the Yankees ahead and then Gordon smacked his pay-off blow.

Mel Harder's four-hit pitching gave the Indians their sixth successive victory. Rudy York and Rookie Bob Patrick hit homers for Detroit and Don Kolloway belted one for the White Sox.

In the National league, the Phils snapped a five-game winning streak by the pace-setting Dodgers with five-hit pitching by Frank Hoerst. His mates rapped Kirby Higbe, Brooklyn ace, for eleven hits, including Litwiler's two-run homer, and a 4 to 2 victory. Manager Durocher's strategy of placing eight right-handed hitters in the lineup against the left-handed Hoerst backfired and also broke a two-game losing streak for the Philadelphiaans.

Rookie Willard Marshall blasted his third home run of the season and sent the Giants surging to a 3 to 1 victory over the Braves. The blow, boosting Marshall's runs-batted-in total to 13 in the Giants' 10 games, enabled Cliff Melton to score his second straight triumph for the Giants, who moved into second place.

Cincinnati defeated the Pirates 9 to 5 as a result of Frank McCormick's home run and a double that drove in five runs, and a perfect day at the plate by Ival Goodman, who collected two doubles, two singles and a walk in five trips. Howard Pollet, making his first start for the Cardinals, was shelled out in the first inning by the Cubs who went on to a 4 to 3 victory.

Blackburn "went to the canvas" for the last time yesterday in his home here, victim of a heart attack.

Bouncing jauntily along on the "come-back trail" after a recent siege of pneumonia during which his life at one time was despaired of, Blackburn was in the best of spirits shortly before his death.

He listened to the radio the night "My Boy Joe" knocked out Abe Simon for the second time.

Chappy, as he was known by thousands throughout the United States, seemed to take heart when Simon went down and took the count.

His face brightened and after the fight he said he was on the way to full recovery.

Blackburn, a former fighter of note, was 38 years old.

At his bedside when death came was his wife.

His real name was Charles Henry Blackburn and he was a lightweight fighter during his days in the squared circle.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND
Some time ago Jack Gurling, secretary of the Hamilton, Ont., Fishing and Game association, was inquiring for the address of Lin Dilks, runner. An English runner had written Gurling asking for Dilks address. Chief McCullen did and today Mr. Gurling sent a "thank you" to the chief, adding: "If any of your friends are coming this summer to Canada and want to know where fish, they can stop off in Hamilton and communicate with me and I will be pleased to advise because of your courteous in locating Dilks." Incidentally, it was Arthur Newton, another "bunion artist" who wanted Dilks address. The South African is now in England. There may be some fishing there, yet have good tires. Should the gas situation not be rationed in small amounts as predicted, it may be possible for some of them to enjoy a fishing jaunt, but indications are local streams will be their goal.

Duquesne and Penn State played a 12-12 spring football deadlock at State College, Friday. . . . Gustine went behind the bat for the Pirates in the seventh against Cincinnati yesterday. It was his first attempt in that role. He was accredited with accepting two fielding chances. Greensburg won a high school football and field meet over Johnstown and Jeannette, 61-42-23. . . . Carnegie Tech and Grove City split even in golf and tennis at Pittsburgh, the former winning at the nets 5-4 and losing in golf, 5 1/2 to 3 1/2.

Beginning Monday, Frankie Genaro will begin training for his fight with Chris Tabor of Niles, here, one week from Monday. Tabor will be trained by Matt McGowan of Niles. Tabor has defeated both Genaro and Russell Baxter. They will box in The Arena.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, April 25.—Throw out the New York Yankees and baseball probably is the worst managed of all big business enterprises year after year.

As things stand at the moment you can throw out the Boston Red Sox and the Chicago White Sox of the American League and the Brooklyn Dodgers, St. Louis Cardinals, Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates of the National.

Those clubs, like the Yankees, appear to have made preparations to do something about the present season. Perhaps some of the rest being in the category of forward-looking, energetic, alert and strictly sound institutions, but for some reason never adequately explained there always must be Philadelphia Phillies, Philadelphia Athletics, Washington Senators those others which hopelessly face another season.

All baseball talent travels just about the same trail to reach the majors, meaning that they sprout up down in the bushes, blossom into prospect shuttle back and forth until finally they land in the majors. Rarely, there may be a major leaguer on some sandlot or on some college campus. But wherever he may be every major league club has an equal chance at his services—except those clubs which have lagged behind and have failed to build up their minor league connections.

Some of them have been painfully remiss in that and some have been willing merely to coast along taking what they can get in the way of gate receipts with an optimism for the future that is baffling.

Phil's A's Inept
I knew the answer to my presumption in taking this blast at people who deal in millions, roughly and more or less. Some one is going to want to know why I didn't turn out to be a baseball executive.

The point I seem to be trying to make is that clubs as bad as Athletics in the American League and the Phillies in the National should not be allowed on the field.

Jack Blackburn, Louis' Trainer, Dies On Friday

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Famous Trainer, 58; Was Noted Fighter

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 25.—The battle-scarred body of Jack Blackburn, famous as conditioner of Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, lay in a coffin today in a Chicago South Side mortuary.

Blackburn "went to the canvas" for the last time yesterday in his home here, victim of a heart attack.

Bouncing jauntily along on the "come-back trail" after a recent siege of pneumonia during which his life at one time was despaired of, Blackburn was in the best of spirits shortly before his death.

Mannie Seamon To Train Louis

Champion Joe Deeply Wounded By Death Of His Beloved "Chappy"

By HYPE IGOE
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, April 25.—Mannie Seamon, long the sparring scout for Joe Louis' conditioning camps, will take Jack Blackburn's place as trainer and tactics advisor of the heavyweight champion.

Louis, deeply wounded by the death of his beloved "Chappy," the man who coached Joe from the day he first put up his hands as a professional fighter, made his own decision in the appointment of Seamon.

Louis was on the target range at Camp Upton yesterday when Major Quigley, public relations officer there, broke the news that Blackburn had passed away from a heart attack in Chicago following a siege of pneumonia.

"When the major told me, I felt just like my right arm had been shot away," said Joe.

"All that I am as a fighter, a champion, I owe to Jack Blackburn. He was teacher, father, brother, nurse, best pal to me and I'll never get over his going away from here. I'll be only half as good as I was. Oh, they say I'll forget 'Chappy' as time goes on, but I know different.

Scratch Bless Me From Derby Race

(International News Service)
LEXINGTON, Ky., April 25.—The lineup for the Kentucky Derby shifted abruptly today with the declaration of stable representatives that Bless Me and Soldier Song will not start in the classic on May 2.

Bless Me's disappointing race at Keeneland yesterday, in which he ran second to Mrs. Payne Whitney's Shut Out, cost E. R. Bradley his only derby candidate. Trainer Jimmy Smith said Bless Me's form was below expectations.

Soldier Song was entered by the Glenn Riddle Farms.

Cleveland's 756 Takes Lead In ABC
COLUMBUS, April 25.—Operator of a parking company, Joseph A. Cleveland, scored to the lead in the ABC singles division with a sparkling 756 series on Friday.

The Ohioan put together scores of 258, 253 and 245 to notch the second highest score marked up in the annual classic since 1901, when the ABC was instituted. He splashed 24 strikes and eight spares. He is 47.

Big Increase In Retail Sales In City During '41

Wages And Other Income In New Castle At High Level During Past Year

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, April 25—Wages and other income were at a high level in New Castle in 1941, with the average family having more money free for luxury spending than did families in most Pennsylvania communities, according to Sales Management's 13th annual survey of buying power just released.

With retail sales of $28,556,000 in 1941, an increase of $2,352,000 over 1940, the city did 64 percent of Pennsylvania's business, although its population is only 48 percent of the state, indicating its strong position as a trading center.

How well the average family in New Castle fared is shown by the fact that its effective buying income—a figure that takes into account the cost of living—was $3,235, far above the $2,614 of the typical American family. For Pennsylvania it was $3,040.

The per capita income in New Castle was $864, leading the $773 of the state and the $693 of the nation. Indexes show luxury standards in Lawrence county to be high. One such index is sales of new passenger cars, which were 41 percent ahead of the 1940 figure, compared to an increase of 31 percent nationally.

Charge Brooklyn Man With Attacks On Eighty Women

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 25—Eugene Levine, 31-year-old, 240-pound Brooklyn car wrecker, who police charge attacked more than 80 women in the past few months, was held in $25,000 bail Friday for grand jury action.

Timeless, his hair disheveled, the huge, hulking six-footer was closely guarded against possible attacks by outraged husbands and relatives of many of his victims as he was arraigned before Magistrate Glebocki.

Only a moment before he had exclaimed to a guard: "Why didn't you shoot me? Why didn't you do it?"

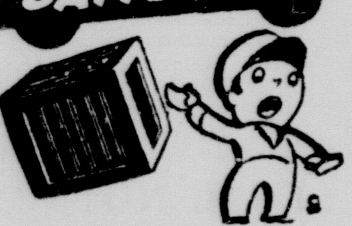

Married, the father of an 18-month-old child, Levine was arrested following a long search in which more than seventy detectives, many of them dressed as women, participated. He was immediately identified by many of the women as their attacker.

Police said Levine made his assaults after following an intended victim into the elevator of their Brooklyn apartment houses.

Trend Is Lower

Market Slips Further Into Low Ground In Trading Of Day

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 25.—The stock market today slipped further into new low ground for the last eight years, after a quiet and steady opening.

While most stocks continued downward, a few scattered sections bucked the trend for modest gains. Changes generally were small, but some preferreds and high-priced common shares suffered large losses. American Telephone again stood out, dropping a point to its lowest price since 1935. West Penn Electric 6 and 7 per cent preferreds each tumbled 4 points to new bottoms of 41 and 46, respectively.

Trading was slight. A quiet bond list was featured by activity in So. Line and Hudson & Manhattan issues. South American obligations were firm. U. S. governments moved nervously.

Standard Oil of N. J. got up to 31 1/2 at one time, or 1/2 point above the price at which 153,000 shares were successfully sold in a secondary offering yesterday.

Eastman Kodak rose a point to 109. Douglas Aircraft and American Can added fractions to last night's closing levels.

Several leading issues reached new lows for the year or longer. Included were Johns-Manville, off 1/4 at 50 1/2; American Smelting, off 1/4 at 36 1/2; Consolidated Edison, off 1/4 at 11 1/2; and Continental Can, off 1/4 at 21 1/2.

General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, General Electric and Santa Fe were down fractions.

Rookie Hal White Is Man Of Week

Detroit Right-Hander, Only 23, Chucks Pair Of Shutouts Within Week

(International News Service)
Harold George White, of Utica, N. Y., Detroit rookie right-hander, is the man of the week.

The sensational first yearman pitched his second consecutive shutout of the season last Thursday against the Chicago White Sox. Five days previous to this scintillating performance, the former Buffalo ace blanked the St. Louis Browns.

Although White is only 23 years old, he has been pitching professionally for five years. In 1940, he won 16 and lost but four games for Buffalo. In 1941, he won 10 and lost 12, having an earned run average of 2.74. Standing 5 feet 10, White has excellent control and fires a slider that crosses up the best of 'em. He is cool under fire, likes the going best, when it is rough. Manager Del Baker, harassed by a weak pitching staff, must have felt like a miner discovering a nugget in a worn-out vein when he realized White's possibilities. In tossing his 4 to 0 shutout against the Browns, White bested Bob Mumfry in a pitching duel. He faced old Ted Lyons, starting his twelfth season with Chicago, in shutting out the White Sox 9 to 0 and allowing only five scattered, two less than he permitted the Browns to muster. Not a single pale hose reached third base as the youngster bore down.

The bride's pastor, Rev. F. H. Daubenspeck, of the

Able-Bodied On Relief Must Get Jobs Says State

Those Able To Secure Jobs Must Go To Work Is State Order

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 25.—The state today served notice to persons on relief that those who are able to obtain jobs must do so or lose their public assistance.

However, where jobs are not available, relief will be continued. Acting in line with a resolution adopted earlier this week, by the state public assistance board, all county assistance boards began a survey of members of relief families to determine whether they had applied to the state employment service or other agencies for work.

The resolution further provides that relief applicants able to work will receive assistance "only after full exploration of the possibility of meeting the need for referral to employment, either directly or through other agencies."

Assistance provided in such cases may not continue beyond one month without a review by a county board committee, or a staff committee appointed by the county board, to determine whether continued granting of assistance is necessary because of the absence of suitable employment opportunity at locally prevailing pay rates for the individual whose case is being reviewed and whether additional steps can be taken to help him secure employment.

The resolution, said Secretary of Public Assistance Howard L. Russell, is in line with general practices which have already been followed successfully by numerous local boards in areas where job openings are sufficient to insure that no employable person need be out of work for long.

"The basic idea is to emphasize that assistance to an employable worker today is, in most instances, definitely a temporary matter," said Russell. "He expects and we expect him to get work."

Filipino farmers are smart. Since the Japs were getting everything they raised, anyway, they started raising hell.

Fifteen Thousand Find Jobs Weekly

HARRISBURG, April 25.—According to registration numbers issued by the Social Security Board and filed with the bureau of employment and unemployment compensation passed the five million mark this week.

An active record of each of these 5,000,000 workers covered by the registration provisions of the Social Security Act who have registered in Pennsylvania are now in the bureau's files.

Approximately 15,000 new account registrations are added each week. This is a very good indication of the number of new workers placed in employment within our state every seven-day period.

The bureau of employment and unemployment compensation has set up this file at its central office in Harrisburg in cooperation with the federal security agency in order to facilitate the investigation of claims for unemployment compensation benefits.

Unemployment Pay Shows Sharp Drop

Drop Of Approximately $100,000 During Past Week In State

HARRISBURG, April 25.—"Unemployment compensation" disbursements showed a sharp decline during the week of April 12-18 from the high total for the previous seven-day period," according to Secretary of Pennsylvania Labor and Industry Lewis G. Hines.

"The figure for this week, $312,600 paid to 27,436 jobless workers, was 2 percent under the high $402,000 for the second week in April, and considerably lower than the corresponding week in 1941 when $534,000 was extended in benefits."

Hines continued, "New claims for idle insurance number slightly less than during the preceding week. Approximately 5,100 jobless workers appeared at local employment offices to apply for compensation grants."

The unemployment compensation fund balance decreased some $30,000 during the past week. It now stands at $231,970,000.

Army Deserter Gets Five Year Prison Sentence

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—Clem A. Jones of Arkansas, a two-time army deserter on Friday was sentenced to five years in a federal prison for chiseling and after he serves that prison term, Uncle Sam will punish him for being a W. O. L.

"I regret that you're standing before me in the uniform of the U. S. Army," commented Judge Guy K. Bard. "But you'll be divested of that very shortly."

Jones pleaded guilty to telephoning relatives of former army associates and telling them their "son or brother" was a W. O. L. and money was needed to pay his expenses back to camp.

In another case, Judge Bard sentenced three men to one-year terms for evading selective service regulations.

HARLANSBURG

HONORED BY PARTY

On Friday evening of last week several couples met at the McCracken residence to honor Joe McCracken. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cameron; also Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cooper, of Portersville. After social chat a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Edna McCracken and daughter, Margaret.

MISSIONARY CIRCLE

Several ladies were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Emma Mallinak on Thursday for an all-day meeting. The morning was spent in quilting, with a delicious three-course dinner at noon.

In the afternoon the ladies sewed and quilted. After a devotional service an article was read by Mrs. R. Thomas, "Victory Through Prayer". A letter from missionaries in Kentucky was read.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 21, at the home of Mrs. Helen Kildoo, with Mrs. Edith Harlan as leader and Mrs. Bertha McCullough, Mrs. Esther Eakin and Mrs. Lena Mathewson as her aides.

HARLANSBURG NOTES

Mrs. Charles Knorr, of Washington, D. C., has returned home, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Venetta Kildoo, after visiting relatives in this vicinity during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Spiker, of New Castle, and daughters, Freda, of Youngstown, and Jennie, of New Wilmington, were Sunday afternoon callers and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kildoo and family.

Rev. J. Leslie Bell, of Jefferson Center, Pa., was a Friday caller in Harlanburg.

Mr. and Mrs. McLean, of near Grant City, have moved to Oil City. Mrs. Albert Double, of the New Castle road, was a Wednesday afternoon caller at the home of Mrs. Ada Gillespie and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Marshall and family.

AROUND CITY HALL

City Solicitor Robert White asserted in city council meeting that whenever utility companies or plumbers desire to excavate in state maintained thoroughfares like Highland avenue the city cannot give a permit and the utilities and firms should obtain their permits from the state highway department.

This assertion was made following council's grant to the Duntile company permitting the concern to excavate rails in Highland avenue. He was considerably exasperated and declared that time and again he had warned council to stay away from matters affecting the state continuations.

Council acting upon his advice rescinded their action.

At present no one is regularly inspecting sidewalks or signs, Harold Wood having been assigned as a rodmann on the city engineer's crew. The sidewalk project has been one of the best ever launched by the city. For years people complained of dangerous sidewalks and damage suits grew out of injuries. Not long ago in open council session it was declared that the advertising sign situation here was very bad and that signs had been erected without permission of the city. It was indicated that signs wrongfully placed would be removed. According to reports there is no work at present in connection with sidewalks and signs hence the new assignment for Wood.

Operation of Cascade Park usually shows a deficit of approximately $5,000, annually. The renting of concessions bring the city treasury about $12,000 yearly. A new concrete basin is to be laid in Cascade Lake thus providing water that is not discolored, according to Park Superintendent C. C. Coulthard.

It cost the city a considerable sum to move street department equipment to the plant formerly operated by the Westmoreland Chemical company. Recently it was announced the city proposed to construct a new one-story cement block building in Taylor street. The city has equipment which cannot be housed in present quarters and may be damaged by weather. No mention has been made when the move will be actually launched.

So far council has not ordered paid one half of wages to dependents of men in the city's employ called into military service. It has been some time since police were given permanent positions on the police force. Temporary appointments also have been made at times to the fire bureau. With vacancies coming on it will be necessary for the city to add to the temporary list.

With tires becoming thinner and an almost certainty of less gasoline indications point to a revival of interest in Cascade Park. It ought to have the best season in years. It stands to reason that with less means of transportation people are going to ride more and more on the buses to recreation centers. This also holds true of persons traveling to and from work. According to a recent statement by bus company officials more buses are on order but due to reasons over which they claim they have no control it may be months before additional new buses are possible here.

Power Club Sees Hungerford Work

Noted Cartoonist Speaks At Meeting Of Local Club Friday Evening

About 200 members of the Pennsylvania Power club discovered what a cinch cartooning is Friday night when Cy Hungerford, noted Pittsburgh cartoonist, spoke at the club's monthly meeting in the service building on South Jefferson street.

Hungerford not only told them how easy it was but demonstrated his unusual art with pictures as he talked. By this afternoon there should be a flock of cartoonists ready to spring their talents upon the world.

The illustrated talk was one of the best attractions the club has had and from the reception accorded Hungerford it was thoroughly enjoyed. President Dudley Arnold presided at the meeting with the guest of honor being introduced by the chairman of the program committee, Thomas Flanagan.

Lee Christy, a former Pennsylvania Power man now a resident of Florida, was present and spoke briefly, and Lieut. Edward Eakin, home from the army on leave, was given a rousing reception. A lunch concluded the evening.

Nineteen Million Jobless Payments During Four Years

HARRISBURG, April 25.—Pennsylvania workers perhaps unknowingly observed a very important milestone in their efforts to attain stable living standards within our great Commonwealth. During the past week, the Pennsylvania Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation issued a benefit check which marked the disbursement of $200,000,000 to jobless workers. This statement was released today by Secretary of Labor and Industry Lewis G. Hines.

"When one recalls that only a few short years ago able workers were temporarily and seasonally laid off with no assistance available to aid them until industry was again in position to re-employ them, it certainly is reassuring to witness the operation of this social program in our state today."

"It is little over four years since the first benefit check was extended to a Pennsylvania jobless wage earner. Now the bureau reports that nearly 19,000,000 such payments were dispatched from its central office at Harrisburg. Each check averaged $11.06."

Salvation Army Attends Council

Local Group In Pittsburgh, Today, Sunday For Two-Day Session Of Council

Today 15 young people from the local Salvation Army corps journeyed to Pittsburgh for two days of council. Captain and Mrs. Carl Andreason and Captain Ruby Skelton will accompany the party.

This morning the session will be a grand welcome to all the delegates and will end with a youth talk by Major Edward Carey, the territorial young people's secretary for the eastern United States.

The afternoon will be spent in a series of group councils for the different ages of 15 to 25 years, at which time there will be various papers presented dealing with the various phases of the religious life of the young people. Corps Cadet Marie Love, from the local corps, has been chosen as one of the persons to read a paper in one of the afternoon sessions. Mrs. Andreason is to be the discussion leader in another group dealing with the corps cadets of Bible students, and Captain Carl Andreason is to have a 10-minute talk in another group on the importance of the departmental system in Sunday school.

This evening the service will be a welcome to our new territorial leaders, Commissioner and Mrs. Ernest I. Pugmire, and will be open to the public.

The meetings tomorrow will be all of a spiritual nature, with the morning service as a consecration service and the final service in the afternoon will be a "call to service" Commissioner Ernest Pugmire will address the Saturday evening service and also the two services on Sunday. The group going to Pittsburgh will be back in New Castle for the regular Sunday evening service.
